The Round-Up Explains Differences In The Method Of This Issue's Printing

by Diane Hall

You probably have noticed that the newspaper is quite different this time. It was printed in a different manner than usual.

In the usual way, the articles are typed in column form where they are then put on a paste-up, which is like the page of the newspaper but quite a lot larger. After the editors have put all articles for their page on the paste-up, it is taken to the press. Here at the press, the paste-up is photographed into a negative. The negative is inked up. Lights go through the metal of the negative and burn through a metal strip. The metal strip is then put on a drum and inked. As the drum rolls, ink comes on the paper. After it has dryed it is folded.

In the way the newspaper was printed this time the articles are not typed up in column form. Instead, when all articles are typed, they immediately go to the press. Here at the press they are reproduced in metal type on a linotype machine, which has a keyboard resembling a double typewriter keyboard. After being reproduced in metal an impression or "proof" is made on the paper. This is a galley. It is brought back and proof read.

Now the story is placed in an open space within an iron frame about the size of a newspaper page. Other stories and headlines are joined to the iron frame. This makes one of the pages of the newspaper.

The final step is that these frames are put on a printing press and the paper is run off and then folded.

This latter method is more expensive. If The Round Up were printed like this everytime, it would be only possible to publish two or three issues.

St. Pat's Day:

CUSTOMS FROM EMERALD ISLE

by Karen Buccos

On March 17, St. Patrick's Day most of us, Irish or not, wear green for fear of being pinched. But do we know why or where these customs originated? Let's take a look at St. Patrick's Day and try to find some answers.

St. Patrick's Day commemorates the death of Ireland's patron saint, who converted the Irish to Christianity. It is Ireland's greatest national holiday as well as a holy day.

St. Patrick, not actually born in Ireland, seemed destined to a life of adventure. When he was 16 he was captured by Irish pirates and enslaved for six years, during which time he became a devout Christian.

He escaped from slavery and went to France, where he became a monk. He returned to Ireland to become a missionary when he had a vision of the Irish people begging for help. He worked relentlessly. According to one legend he used the shamrock to represent the idea of the Holy Trinity, the Father, Son and Holy Ghost.

One of the most famous legends concerning St. Patrick is his charming of Ireland's snakes down to the sea, where they drowned.

Upon his death it is said the sun did not set for 12 days and nights.

St. Patrick's Day has been observed in New York City since 1762 with a spectacular parade. And people around the world celebrate it also with shamrocks, green flags and the wearing of green.

West's Band Members To Attend Festival In March

by Mark Hamilton

The West Junior High Concert Band will participate in the District 12 Band Festival tomorrow at Belleville High School. District 12 includes Monroe, Wayne and Washtenaw counties. One of the reasons these young musicians are performing is for a band rating, but mainly this is to strengthen their ability to play as an organization.

A band rating is a grade or quality mark that is awarded to the band by a panel of four judges. Ratings are marked from 1 to 5 as follows: 1—superior performance, 2—good, 3—average, 4—fair, 5—poor. The judges' grade is a combination of the band's concert and sight reading. Sight reading is when the band is requested to play music never seen before.

To compare the bands in the district, one composition, "Fantasy for Band," was chosen for a required number. To rate the organization, another number, a warm-up song, "Emblem of Unity," and a specially selected tune, "Orlando Palandrina," were chosen to complete the concert.

The West Junior High String Orchestra participated in the District 12 Orchestra Festival on March 9 at Lincoln Consolidated School.

A certificate and individual medals will serve as awards for both festivals.

West Shows Pep

This year in Student Council, it was brought up that West didn't have a Pep Club. The only reason or this was because no teachers were willing to sponsor it. A few students talked to Miss Mattingly, Mrs. Kasten, and Mr. Tobias, and they agreed to sponsor it. Since basketball season is over, the Pep Club is finished for this year, but will be started next year again with even more pep!

The club had only one meeting, but from this meeting many students seemed interested in having a club. At this meeting the cheerleaders taught the students some cheers.

Cheerleader Marcy Ouellette said the main purpose of having a Pep Club is for the members to sit in a group at as many games as possible and cheer our teams on to a victory.

Marcy also said that unfortunately, the members of the Pep Club are unable to have buses take them to away games but must get there by their own means of transportation. It is hoped this will be changed in the future.

The Spotlight Centers On Rick Hawkins

by Gary Ziegler

This issue's spotlight student is Rick Hawkins, an 8th grader in Mr. Berry's homeroom.

Last year, Rick attended Emerson Junior High School in Flint, where he was on the football, basketball and wrestling teams. Although he is usually quite busy after school, he still finds time to enjoy a few of his many favorite activities, or maybe just to go home and take it easy for the rest of the day. Rick enjoys sports so much, he is planning to go out for football and basketball next year at West.

If he has any time to spare, he usually is listening to his many records, particularly the Temptations, his favorite group.

He also has two brothers and one sister. His sister is in the 11th grade at Ypslanti High School. One of his brothers, Victor, is a 7th grader here at West, while his older brother attends Eastern Michigan University.

We certainly hope he keeps on attending West, for his toughness and superb defense have certainly helped the 8th grade basketball team a great deal all year.

Good luck in everything you do Rick, or anyone for that matter, for no one knows which student of West will be in the Spotlight next issue!

Council Acts Again

by Cheryl Callis

Student Council has been keeping busy and is working on a few projects right now.

The next fun nights have been decided upon, which will be next Friday, sponsored by the band and the Freshmen Farewell, which will be sponsored by the Council on June 7.

The talent show is coming up April 4. All are urged to plan early and think of an act. It can be good only with student participation.

Clean-Up Week is also nearing. There will be a poster contest throughout the homerooms. The homeroom, which makes the most Clean-Up posters, will win.

Did you know that even if you are not a Student Council representative, you may visit a meeting to see what is happening? Students are encouraged to go, as they will learn more and would be able to better their Council. In doing this West would be striving for improvement.

Where Is 'Best From West'?

by Krista Wheatley

"What is the "Best from West', anyhow?"

This seemed to be the question that caused the death of this publication.

The "Best from West" previously was a collection of the best poetry, prose and art West could produce. Prose included short stories, and any type of poetry or art was eligible. English and art teachers of the 7th, 8th and 9th grades submitted examples of students' work, and only the top quality items were chosen.

Prizes were awarded for the best three in each category. These items were then published in magazine form with art work to illustrate the prose and poetry.

During the first semester of this year, two student teachers at West took over the job, publishing a 1967-68 "Best from West". For several reasons the project had to be dropped.

Now that students of West know a little more about this project. The Round-Up staff hopes that students will enthusiastically encourage others to help get a similiar publication out this year. Student participation is needed to publish a "Best from West", filled with the high quality work that West's classes have the ability to produce.

Mrs. Smith would be glad to show you the copies of the 'Best from West" which are on file in the library.

It would be quite an honor and a chance for student participation at West if we could get a 1967-68 'Best from West" out before June.

Are We Being Fair To Mr. Goodsman

by Krista Wheatley

Lately there seems to have been some student complaints about Mr. Harold Goodsman's reactions to ideas that have been brought to him by students.

These complaints whine about Mr. Goodsman saying "no" or "I don't think that is a very good idea," to a spur of the moment idea.

Students suddenly think of something that is a terrific idea and they take it right to Mr. Goodsman. He may say no and if he does, everyone gets upset.

Think! Is this fair? Did the student suggesting the idea, consider all sides, good and bad? Did he try to research the idea, finding out all there is to know about the subject and if it has possibilities of working at our school?

Each student presenting an idea to our principal should research his idea and explain what he has found out to Mr. Goodsman. He is likely to give more thought to our idea if he is able to see that we are responsible enough to carry out the idea we have thought up.

As in the case of school T-shirts and pins, they may be a very good idea but long range project such as these usually need to be planned in advance. This also should be considered when a student is evaluating his idea.

Remember, Mr. Goodsman is here to help students keep West best.

This is what he considers in making his decisions.

Before students listen to rumors they should see if they know all the reasons for Mr. Goodsman's decision; not just what his decision was or just one side of the argument.

West Wins Three Over East Freshmen

In the last game of the season West Mustangs defeated East Vikings by a score of 58-53, at East.

That last game proved to be one of the most exciting games ever, with pressure on both teams and rising tension throughout the game. The game started with West controlling for the first quarter. At the end the West had the lead 16 to 10. The game continued with both teams putting forth a full effort, so the score at the half was 29-21.

Don Bailey, who played a great game, had 23 points, 8 field goals and 7 foul shots.

Steve Rhodin, the high point man for East made 25 points, 5 foul shots and 10 field goals.

8th Grade

by Gary Zieglar

On Feb. 29, the glorious Mustang team ended its not-so-long basketball season by whipping the eight grade Vikings by a score of 57-27.

Still playing a great defensive game, the Mustangs held a firm lead at the half by a score of 25-12.

Coming back at half, West played great all round, for in the whole game West hit on 26 field goals and sank five foul shots, three of which Bob McSpadden sank. At the game, statistics showed that Rick Hawkins led in the scoring department with 18 points followed by Fred Trosko with 14 points. Pat McCrystal was next in line with six points.

7th Grade

Thursday Feb. 29 West's 7th grade basketball team defeated the East Vikings by a score of 35-26 in a fine defensive contest at East.

The game started off slowly with neither team being able to find their shooting eye. West put in a few more baskets than East and led 17-13 at the intermission.

After the half West started hitting and the game ended up with a nine point margin for our side.

In the scoring race Art Burrell had 15 points and was high for West. Larry Powell had 8 points and Jim Hall had 6 points. Jim Tipton and Bob Kelly had 5 and 1 points respectively.

YPSILANTI WEST WRAPS UP SUCCESSFUL BASKETBALL SEASON

by Karl Weiss

This season has been a very successful year for West's cagers. The 9th grade finished with a 7-3 record, the 8th grade 5-0, and 7th grade 4-0. Here are a few comments by the coaches.

Mr. Wagner, 9th grade coach, believes that although this year's team hasn't been the greatest he's had, he never has had a team with the desire, attitude and not giving up attitude. Where this year's team lacked ability and speed as a whole, it made up for this by hustle and spirit. The additions of Don Bailey and Wayman Green, added quite a bit to the team's scoring punch.

Individual Future

So far as a future for any member of the team it is entirely up to the individual whether he wants to work on his own or not. As for looking to next year Coach Wagner feels that if the 8th grade team that he's inheriting keeps on working they'll be good.

In closing the season with a victory over East, which took three years Mr. Wagner feels very happy and says, "I haven't enjoyed any other season more then I've enjoyed this one."

As far as the 8th and 7th grades are concerned Mr. Perriello says he also enjoyed this season.

Spirited 8th Grade

Mr. Perriello say his undefeated 8th grade team is a team that works together well and is a group that is well unified and spirited with no one individual carrying any more load than another.

Mr. Perriello says this about the no-loss record pressure on the team, "Pressure is only a state of mind. When you work hard you can't think about pressure."

The 7th grade team also had a very good record but there is still room for improvement.

Lambrose Speaks

by Tom Byrum

The day after the end of wrestling this reporter interviewed Coach Lambros about this year's team.

He was asked what he thought of this year's team compared to last year's. He said he greatly enjoyed working with the boys. He said, "This year we had better wrestlers and more of a team effort. We have more balance this year than last year."

He was also asked on the prospects for next year's team. He said, "I have the same feelings as I did last year. Last year I thought we would have an even breaking team this year, but they came through." He added, "from 7th to 8th grade and from 8th to 9th grade the boys grow a lot and become strong. This year we will lose most of our first string, but we will do all right next year."

Belleville Loses

by Dane Fortney

The Mustangs of West defeated the Tigers of Belleville, Feb. 23, by a score of 64-56.

The game started off slowly with both teams off on their shooting. Then Belleville hit a couple of shots and took the lead. It looked as though the Tigers were going to control the half. However, led by the shooting of Wayman Greene, the freshmen tied the score and finally took a 37-32 lead at halftime.

After the half the Mustangs got rolling again and took a commanding lead, aided by Greene and Don Bailey. After that it was no contest.

In the scoring race, Greene was high for West with 23 points. Next came Bailey with a 12 point effort. Pete Kingston scored 9 and Greg Richison, 8.

Behind the Scenes

by Fred Trosko

The 1967-68 basketball season has ended with all the teams holding winning records.

The freshman team ended with an excellent 7-3 record. Wayman Greene had a great season, scoring 210 points, averaging 21 points per game. Don Bailey came on strong during the latter part of the season scoring 23 points in the final game against East.

The 9th grade team had a great season and deserve a lot of credit for their fine play.

8th Grade

The 8th grade team had their second straight undefeated season winning five straight games over Albion, Belleville twice and East twice. Guard Ricky Hawkins also had a strong surge at the end of the season scoring 16 points against Belleville, and 18 points against East. He played fine defensive ball all season.

Center Pat McCrystal, neatly improved from last year, scared off would-be shooters this year and pulled down 45 rebounds.

The whole team did a fine job and hustled through the entire season.

7th Grade

The 7th grade team also went undefeated winning four straight. Although they did not have a well-balanced attack, they did have a fine defensive ball club. Arthur Burrell was the leading scorer for West. His ability for shooting from the outside often got them out of sticky situations.

Larry Powell was the defensive hawk and gigantic James Hall was the rebounder.

The coaches, Mrs. Wagner, and Mr. Perriello, deserve a pat on the back for their efforts put forth in getting their teams ready.

Wrestlers

The wrestling squad certainly did an admirable job, winning 8 of their 9 meets. I could write on forever about the achievements that Mr. Lambros and His "Mighty Maulers" made. Boys like Charles Wells, Jeff and Steve Jentzen, Amen Bow, Rick Bohn, and 8th graders Mike Gilbert and Steve Wilcoxen helped give the wrestlers their ferocious nickname. Their record is 8-1.

Sing Along With Payne

This year, Mr. Payne has chosen from West's chorus, two smaller groups, The Mustang Singers and the Westernettes. These 18 girls were chosen on the basis that they would work hard and perhaps spend extra time working on their songs.

The students will sing a variety of songs in the spring concert, which is to be held in May. The chorus, and the two groups chosen from the chorus, will also participate in this concert.

The Westernettes will sing songs such as "Georgy Girl" and "Somewhere My Love". The six girls chosen for the group are Mariam Frye, Linda Lawrence, June Hitchcock, Raylene Raycroft, Cissy McAndrew and Sally Ogden.

The Mustang Singers will sing folk music. Two of their songs are "Where Have All the Flowers Gone?" and "Blowin' In the Wind". The girls chosen for the Mustang Singers are Nancy Nelson, Vicki Jamerson, Debbie Perdew, Glenda Reynolds, Sandra Bevins, Arden Basler. Donna Sullivan, Kathy Roberts, Karen Fish, Melanie Perreault, Cara Sroges, and Gloria Townsell.

Mr. Payne also teaches general music classes during the day. He feels general music is important to learn because it is one of man's expressions, one of his arts.

Up To Date In Fashion

It seems that this year style designers are coming out with some new wild ideas.

For the girls there seem to be many new fabulous colors. Things just seem to be brightening up! The wide stripes in shirt dresses, bright polka dots on a dark background, and "V" neck sweaters are coming back in style. Fishnet stockings are really the "in" thing this season.

The boys' fashion department is really perking up too. The new colors in vests, sweaters and shirts are just outstanding. Checks and plaids in the slacks seem to be rather popular. "Flower Power" is coming in with everything!

Styles are changing as you can see, and most think it's for the better.

Student Council Officers Are Introduced

This year's Student Council is really moving and still working hard with their ever faithful advisor, Mr. Wagner.

Pete Kingston, President of the Council, is 14 years old and is in the 9th grade. Pete's favorite subjects are algebra and gym. His future plans are to finish high school and to go on to college.

Pete said, "I want everyone to try to participate in the Talent Show." 'I'd also like to compliment the students for their school spirit, especially the cheerleaders for establishing the pep club."

Jim Buelow, Vice President, is also 14 years old and one of Pete's classmates. Jim's favorite subjects are algebra and history. He has the same scholastic plans as Pete.

Vice President Buelow stated "I'd like to thank the students for the support of the teams."

Marcy Ouellette, and her sister, Michele, are both officers of the Council. Marcy, secretary, is an 8th grader and will be 14 in May. Her favorite subjects are math and science. Michele is treasurer, in the ninth grade and just turned 15 this month. Her favorite subects are gym and Latin. Michele and Marcy have a lot in common. They both are cheerleaders and are great water skiers and swimmers. They also hope to be physical education teachers.

Marcy thinks the Student Council this year is pretty great but the best thing about it is the president. She says Pete is really great. She also thinks they've had some good projects this year, especially with the Vietnam plaque.

Michele said, "This year's student council has done a lot of good things but we really need the students' help. I think they're doing well and are very active."

Karl Weiss, Parliamentarian, is 15 years old and in the "Class of 71." Karl's favorite subjects are algebra and typing. He plans to finish high school and attend a southern college.

Karl said, "I'd like to compliment the student body for participating and showing interest in the Council's activities and spirit they show during the athletic events." His hobbies are taxidermy and his band, "The Roman Forum."

Sometime during May next year's Student Council officers election will be held. The nominees will be from the 7th and 8th grades, but the 9th grade will vote too.

It's A Boy

On Feb. 25, Mr. Livedoti, one of our science teachers here at West, and his wife, Elizabeth, became the proud parents of a 6 lb. 7 oz. baby boy. The 19-inch boy is named after his father—Dominic Livedoti and, according to the happy father, looks like a future athlete.

Talent Show Becomes Reality

by Karl Weiss

The Student Council has confirmed the fact that there is going to be a second annual talent show this year.

Anyone who is planning on being in it should start getting ready for the auditions, which are going to be held on March 28. People who want to be in the show will be notified on these tryouts ahead of time. The auditions will be held in several different rooms one for each different kind of act.

The contestants will be chosen by the Student Council committee and six teachers chosen by the committee.

The show will take place on April 4 during an assembly. This vear's show is strictly to display the talent at West, and no prizes will be given.

Debby Palmer, chairman of the Talent Show committee says, "With lots of participation, maybe we can make this year's talent show better than last year's."
